The ArtZone - young people's artwork in the community

The artwork for our downloadable 2009 calendar has been created by young people across the UK. The images have been selected from the online gallery of the ArtZone, the community art initiative of which British Transport Police is a partner.

The aim of the ArtZone is to promote a feeling of self worth among young people through seeing their artwork being used in the community in a positive way. We would like teachers, parents and youth leaders to encourage young people to send in artwork that could then feature in the online gallery on www.teachingzone.org/artzone.

We then encourage businesses, local authorities and government agencies to use the artwork in their community communications such as posters, newsletters or websites. In this way organisations can demonstrate a commitment to helping promote the well being of the community in which they operate or do business.

Seeing their art being used in the community will encourage most young people to make their mark in society in a positive rather than negative way such as graffiti spraying on the railway network.

"We are delighted to be a partner of the ArtZone initiative that we see as part of our on-going education programme in schools and local communities to divert young people from carrying out acts of railway crime and participating in anti-social behaviour on the railway network."

Ian Johnston CBE, Chief Constable, British Transport Police
