Safe travelling on Buses

Travelling on buses is a safe and enjoyable experience. Passengers should follow the following guidance to help ensure this:-

- If travelling late at night, always stand in a well lit area within the bus stop or train station, finally when boarding the bus try to ensure you sit near the driver.
- When travelling at night on quiet routes on double decker buses, sit on the lower deck near the driver.
- Should you become concerned about the behaviour of any passenger, bring this to the attention of the driver when it is safe to do so.
- Always ensure you plan the correct route to travel on and identify where the safest stop is for you to get off the bus. If possible at night have someone meet you at the bus stop or travel with someone you know.
- If you see someone vandalising the bus, bring this to the attention of the driver.
- Do not have expensive looking accessories such as mobile phones, iPods or similar items on show if possible, as this may attract the attention of thieves.
