Metro stations

You'll find Metro stations where a lot of people live or work. Most Metro stations are above ground, although some city centre stations are underground.

Many Metro stations have lifts and escalators. On the concourse level you'll find the ticket machines. Some stations have Travelshops, where you can pick up travel information and travel passes/cards.

Many stations also have shops, cash machines, and take-away coffee stands.

We also have a number of stations that are branded with advertising. This happens when a company would like to have their logo and name around the station.

Newcastle United Football Club have branded St James' Metro station by covering it in black and white stripes. There is even a football pitch on the concourse where footballers, past and present have left their footprints.
